

Now be aware of yourself, sitting in your seat.....

So, adjust the back of your seat so you can easily look up to the top of our Light Temple.....

Take a couple of deep centering breaths.....

Let go of everything except your awareness of being present in this moment.....

With the opening of the higher aspects of your Soul-Spirit, be prepared, now, to step into the mysteries.....

The Light of our Cosmic Temple Vortex begins spinning and spinning around us.

We are not spinning, only the Vortex of Light surrounding our circle.....

And it spins and it spins.....

You may notice there is no longer a ceiling above you.....

As the spinning continues, the Light Temple is transforming into the purest of Crystalline Plasmic Light.....

Suddenly the spinning stops. And all goes dark.....

Feel the Blessed Silence that is held in this Sacred Stillness.....

This darkness has an exceptional and mystical quality to it.

The texture, if you could touch it, would feel like liquid silk.....

This Sacred Darkness is one with the Cosmic Womb.....

It is electric.

Feel the creative life of the Universe pulsing within it.....

"The Light is being reborn.....

The very Light which has been cast out and forgotten for over 2000 years.

It is the Feminine emanation.....the most primordial of all Light and radiance that is born in the depth of the (cosmic) womb.

And it is returning.....

She is returning.....

And may we be blessed enough to make space for this return.....this coming again....

And receive it into the depths of our being.

So that we all can be reborn.....and this Light can flourish once again through all of us" .
